

Tomorrow is Another Day

By Jianliang Zhou

How many times were you told,
“Tomorrow is another day”?
Every morning it sounds like someone’s repeating it,
But replaced “tomorrow” by “today”;
Today is another day, Hoh-Hoh, time is exactly life,
Time is wealth with no replacement,
Time is much heavier than gold, diamond..... Like it or not,
Another day begins today.

Wake up it’s 6 o’clock already,
Hurry up it’s 7 o’clock already,
Are you ready for another day?
Another day could be usual,
Another day is a plenty thing you could spend,
Another day is cheap stuff everyone could waste,
Another day might begin the day after tomorrow,
Two days after tomorrow.....
Even never become another day.

It’s a cycle,
Day by day,
Weeks follow weeks,
Month after month,
The sunshine is the same golden bright,
The moon light is the same silver white,
The stars still twinkle in the sky..... The tide is coming and is going,
But the stream always sings a song to run in the sea,
Just like yesterday never came back.

Have you felt that life is short?
That moment might be the end of your teenage years, Might be now.
If you feel that way
You should say,
“Today is another day,”
You become a manager of your life,
You become the master of your life,
How many tomorrows in your life?
Regard all of them as today in rest of your life?
